Dear Dr. Blair:

You might be interested in the enclosed shadow of something you built thirty-four years ago. The location of the center of a tree was an illuminating principle that should have more prominence than it does for many graph-canonical problems.

Do you know of any similar applications, or of any more formal proof of 1.221?

Sincerely yours,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Genetics

P.S. We put your enumerations on a computer program and were happy to confirm the arithmetic.
